

What is hospice?

Hospice provides comfort care to individuals with a life-limiting illness. Hospice care applies a team approach, treating the patient's medical needs, managing symptoms, and offering spiritual and emotional support. Hospice also offers support to a patient's loved ones, including bereavement care for 13 months following the death of the patient.

What determines eligibility?

A patient is eligible for hospice care if a physician certifies that he/she has six months or less to live, if the disease runs its normal course. The patients must also forgo curative treatments.

How do I pay for care?

Hospice care is covered under the Medicare Hospice Benefit and is also covered by most private insurances.
